

Dear client,

It is always advisable to take precautionary measures when dealing with finances or trading. Below is a checklist of items to assist in guarding you from unwanted online approaches, courtesy of Vestle.

A Vestle employee will never call and ask you:

- for your Credit card number
- for your password to the trading platform
- to trade in another platform
- to transfer money to another location
- your password details for any of your private apps (e.g.: Facebook, Gmail...)

A Vestle employee will never call you and:

- present themselves as being from another platform (e.g.: a business partner or subsidiary)
- ask you to install anything on your phone

A Vestle employee will never send you an email from:

- another email address
